

BRUKSMANN

VINTAGE & ANTIQUE DESIGN GALLERY

A Massive Wabi Sabi Wooden Stool, anonymous designer, France c. 1950s

DESCRIPTION

This mid-century stool is a true work of art, featuring a unique Wabi Sabi style that showcases the beauty of natural imperfections. Handcrafted with massive oak wood, this piece is ebonized to enhance its natural grain, resulting in a stunning contrast that is sure to impress. The stool's most striking feature is the hole in the middle, which adds a touch of intrigue and makes it both functional and aesthetically pleasing. Dating back to the 1950s, this stool was crafted in France and embodies the elegant simplicity of mid-century design. Its large size and sturdy construction make it the perfect statement piece for any modern home or office. Whether you use it as a seat, a side table, or simply as a piece of art, this massive wooden stool is sure to be a conversation starter.

SPECIFICATIONS

Category	Inventory, Objects, Sculpture, Seating, Side tables, Stools, Tables, Wabi Sabi
-----------------	--
