

A Mid-Century Compass Table In the manner of Jean Prouvé, France, c. 1950s

c. 1950s, France

A French compass table in solid wood with a red laminate top, in the manner of Jean Prouvé. Made during the post-war Reconstruction era. The tapering legs form an A-shaped compass base at each end, linked by a red lacquered…

STYLE	Mid-Century Modern
MATERIALS	Wood, metal and laminate
CONDITION	a split and small losses to the laminate at one end, chips to the corners and edges of the top, scattered small worm holes and worn finish to the legs. Structurally sound
HEIGHT	73 cm (28.75 in)
MAKER	In the manner of Jean Prouvé
WIDTH	100 cm (39.38 in)
DEPTH	60 cm (23.63 in)