A Mid-Century Oak Side Table with Metal Foot, France, c. 1950s

DESCRIPTION

A sculptural French side table from the 1950s, featuring a round oak top and a curved wooden side panel resting on a single exposed metal foot. The design balances warm, organic materials with industrial contrast, creating a quietly expressive form. The patinated metal leg adds visual tension to the soft, rounded oak structure. Compact yet distinctive, this piece works equally well as a side table, pedestal, or sculptural accent in a refined interior.

Wear consistent with age and use; the metal foot is slightly unstable but remains functional.
