Christian Durupt, Set of Six "Meribel" Dining Chairs in Pine, France, c. 1960s

DESCRIPTION

These six "Meribel" chairs, designed by French architect Christian Durupt, are crafted from pinewood and were originally created for the Meribel ski resort in France. Durupt collaborated with renowned designer Charlotte Perriand (1903-1999) on the project, and the chairs are believed to date from the 1960s.
